

Scholarship in memory of Giovanni Anania

(Catanzaro, December 9, 1956 – Cosenza, July 15, 2015)

The following institutions:

- AIEAA – Italian Association of Agricultural and Applied Economics
- CRD – Manlio Rossi-Doria Centre for Economic and Social Research (Roma Tre University)
- Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics (University of California at Davis)
- Department of Economics, Statistics and Finance (University of Calabria)

hereby establish a scholarship in memory of Giovanni Anania.

The scholarship shall be awarded to a student enrolled in the first or second year of an Italian doctoral program (the 2016 edition is for students enrolled in the 30th and 31st doctoral cycles) with a research project in one of the following fields:

- international trade,
- negotiations and agreements on market liberalization,
- sectoral and trade policies in the agri-food sector.

The scholarship is in the amount of €5,000.00 and shall serve to help cover the expenses of a stay of a minimum of four months, tuition-free, at the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics of the University of California at Davis (United States), with the right to attend educational activities and seminars organized by the Department. Thanks to the International Agricultural Trade Consortium (IATRC) the winner can also attend the IATRC's Annual Meeting free of charge.

The selection shall be made by a committee of three members designated by the institutions that have sponsored the scholarship.

The applications will be evaluated on the basis of a research project whose academic objectives and methodologies must be clearly specified. The description of the project, written in English, must not be longer than 15,000 characters. In case of research projects receiving equal evaluations, preference shall go to candidates born in the region of Calabria.

The deadline for the 2016 Call for Applications is June 30th. By this date, applications must have been transmitted to centro.rossidoria@uniroma3.it accompanied by:

- research project description
- copy of an identity document
- certificate of registration at the doctoral cycle
- letter of recommendation from the doctoral program supervisor or coordinator.

The results of the evaluation procedure will be communicated to candidates by July 15th. The winner shall commit to carrying out the program described in the Call – whose details will be agreed with the participating institutions – under penalty of revocation of the award and of the related benefits.
